EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR'S SUMMARY

2018 to 2021 has been a challenging stretch of time but has also come with a wide range of achievement and partnerships. On this note, I thank the Almighty for both the achievements and the challenges but mostly for the challenges because they have helped a lot in building SYDF into a stronger and better social enterprise than before.

With the same joy and love, I thank the different teams throughout the years that have worked tirelessly, strongly motivated and patiently to see SYDF move to greater heights especially in impacting lives of young people. The different individuals that have played big roles in both SYDF's programs and linkages to different networks, partnerships and memberships.

On the side of challenges I wish to remind everyone that it's in the same reporting time frame (2018 – 2021) that the entire globe was hit by Covid -19. And just like many businesses, SYDF was also equally affected both administratively and financially. This saw SYDF close the training center with plans to construct our own premises for a better and bigger space for a training center and an eco – friendly factory on a piece of land that we managed to acquire in the same reporting time. This is still underway and we still need both financial and material support.

The production department was moved to the Executive Director's home since it was also at low rate during the lockdown.

To the over 2500 youths SYDF has empowered in different parts of Uganda with different skills, please put those skills to good use so that they can help you improve on your livelihoods.

Lastly, as usual I am very grateful to all those who have contributed to this report in every single way.

Aine Dixon

Major interest was picked in paper bags making skill thus prompting WEL to include it in their women economic empowerment program as an additional package.

2. PRODUCTION

Production of reusable sanitary pads is mostly on order attached to trainings however, we also produce for individual sales but on a low scale. In production that is attached to trainings we also donate as an organisation to a tune of 20%. Then with our price for individual sales of 3500 shs which is supposed to be 5000shs per piece, we donate 1500shs. All our productions ie reusable sanitary pads, paper bags and liquid soap we put environment protection into consederartion and its one of our major quality control measures. And the table below shows our production since 2018 to 2021.

4. MILESTONES

Since its founding in 2015, SYDF has been accredited for its successful programs targeting youth unemployment

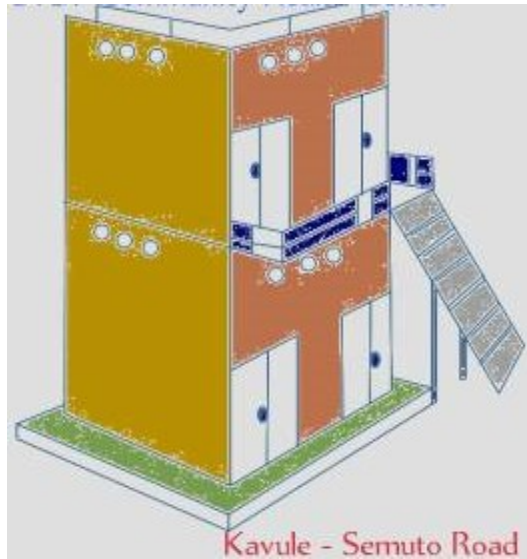

5. PIGGERY FARMING

This was a pilot project which was developed as a result of Latek Stay Alliance Uganda which was funding this venture with intention for proof of concept of piggery to eradicate poverty among rural farmers from Iwemba sub-county in Bugiri district. It was to benefit 12 households who were being given 70% for construction, four piglets with 3 females and 1 male and the social entrepreneur running a demonstration farm. Then each household was to take back 3 piglets from each of the 3 female pigs every birth for two years to the social entrepreneur who would pay 1 piglet from each birth to Latek. This project didn't reach its maximum success because of the oversights in distance being a proxy project because the social entrepreneur was based in Kampala, feeds costs incurred by the beneficiaries and also COVID-19 affected it a lot.

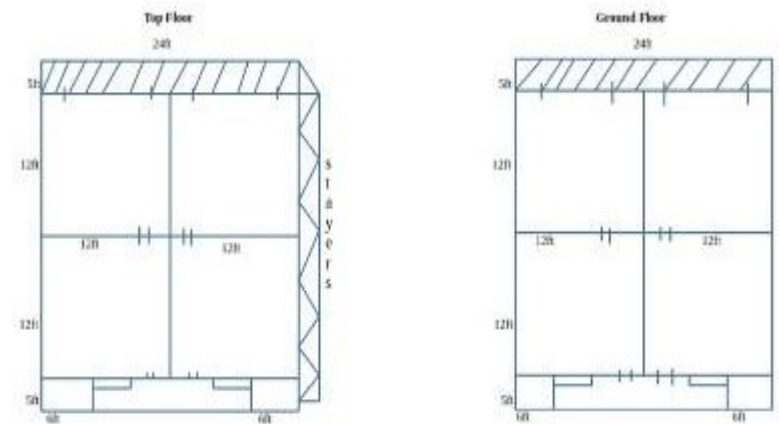

6. PURCHASE OF LAND

We were also able to purchase a piece of land from the sales from liquid soap as a result of covid -19 where we plan to set up a fully fledged hands on skills centre and an eco friendly factory.

PLAN FOR THE SKILLS CENTER AND FACTORY

7. NEW INNOVATIONS

In response to covid action challenges, SYDF invented a bar soap dispenser as an alternative for the households that cannot afford liquid soap.
